

Gulf Islands Guide

Renewal and Rebirth

Gulf Islands National Seashore continues to renew and rebuild following the devastating effects of the 2004 and 2005 hurricane seasons. Seashore renewal takes place daily, as animals and plants progress through their life cycle, and grains of sand shift with winds, currents, and storms. However, the average visitor will notice more tangible signs, such as construction of roads and visitor services, a new documentary film, new museum exhibits in Florida and 400 new wayside exhibits throughout the Park.

Signs of progress abound in both districts of Gulf Islands National Seashore. In Mississippi, a temporary visitor contact station opened in Davis Bayou in 2006; this year the original Visitor Center will be renovated. West Ship Island reopened with temporary visitor services in 2006; construction of new facilities will begin this year.

In Florida, the Fort Pickens Area on Santa Rosa Island is accessible via foot, bike, or boat. J. Earle Bowden Way will reopen in stages this year, beginning with Navarre to Opal Beach. Fort Barrancas is open with new Visitor Center exhibits. Okaloosa and Perdido Key are also open for picnicking and swimming.

Enjoy the renewal and rebirth of the natural world, or step back in time to enjoy historic fortifications. Seize the opportunities offered at Gulf Islands National Seashore, one of America's special places.

The Davis Bayou fishing pier has been rebuilt since Hurricane Katrina.

New Perdido Key pavilions provide gulf side picnicking.

Road construction between Pensacola Beach and Navarre Beach will be completed in 2008.

Welcome from the Superintendent

Welcome to Gulf Islands National Seashore!
This park is the largest of the ten national seashore sites within the National Park System and generally ranks within the top ten most visited of all 390 sites. This year we expect to see substantial progress on major projects within the Seashore which will provide some new and some traditional opportunities for our visitors to enjoy this special place.

Have a safe and enjoyable visit!
Jerry Eubanks, Superintendent

Santa Rosa Island Roadways Rebuild J. Earle Bowden Way and Fort Pickens Road

Work on reconstructing J. Earle Bowden Way (the park road connecting Pensacola Beach and Navarre Beach) began in October, 2007 and is expected to be completed in March or April of this year. The environmental compliance for Fort Pickens Road reconstruction was completed in September, 2007, and the design planning and engineering is underway. Construction is expected to begin in the fall of 2008 with a completion date of spring, 2009.

Davis Bayou Visitor Center Planning Begins

Hurricane Katrina's storm surge washed through Mississippi's William M. Colmer Visitor Center in August 2005. Although new exhibits will not be completed for several years, basic building rehabilitation plans have been approved. The park hopes to reopen the visitor center in 2008.

The Park's Future in the General Management Plan

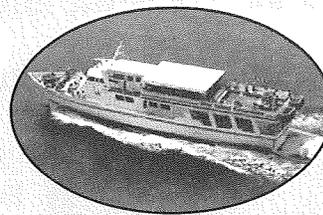

The Seashore's General Management Plan (GMP) process is continuing. The completed GMP will guide park management for the next 15 – 20 years.

Based upon internal scoping, public meetings, and public comments received in response to the draft alternatives, a draft preferred alternative and Environmental Impact Statement (EIS) will be developed in 2008. After internal review, the draft document will go out for additional public review in early 2009.

Take a Boat Ride to West Ship Island, MS

Everyday, March - October, West Ship Island offers visitors the natural beauty of a fragile barrier island environment and compelling stories of American history. Take a stroll, sit and relax, or take a tour. Free, ranger-led tours of Fort Massachusetts are offered seasonally twice daily. Learn how the role Ship Island and Fort Massachusetts have played in the American story. Other interpretive programs are offered seasonally. Access to West Ship Island is available via passenger ferry or by private boat. For ferry rates and schedules see page 10, call Ship Island Excursions at 1-866-GO-MS-FUN or go to www.msshipisland.com.

Exploring Mississippi

Trail Name	Trail Length	Comments
William M. Colmer Visitor Center Trails	100 yards	Provides the best views of Davis Bayou; ends overlooking the Mississippi Sound. A short walk from the visitor contact station will take you to the old pier.
Nature's Way Trail	.9 mile loop	Traverses a maritime forest, an ancient dune system, and an adjacent salt marsh.
Live Oaks Bicycling Route	15 miles	Winds along roads in the park (2 miles) and the adjacent community of Ocean Springs (13 miles.)
Davis Bayou Trail	1 mile	Provides a route from the visitor center to the picnic areas with links to the CCC Overlook and Nature's Way Trails.
CCC Trail	.2 miles	A former Civilian Conservation Corps road bed leads to an overlook of the salt marsh and CCC built ruins.

Kid's Programs

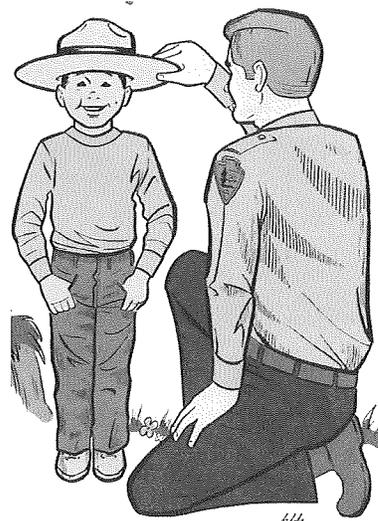

Junior Rangers and Sea Stars

Hi Kids! Looking for something to do while visiting the park? Become a Junior Ranger or a Sea Star. Pick up your free handbook at one of the visitor centers. These handbooks are for children but anyone can participate. When you have completed the handbook return it and receive a surprise!

Be a Ship Island Soldier

Young visitors can learn the drill, wear the uniform and learn about the day-to-day life of Civil War soldiers stationed on Ship Island. This one hour program targets ages 9-12, but everyone is welcome! To arrange a park or classroom visit, group leaders should call (228) 875-9057 ext. 100.

Be a Web Ranger

Now you can be a Junior Ranger even if you are not able to visit a National Park. Become a member of a growing group of young people who are interested in the world around them and involved with their nation's heritage...The Web Ranger! Just visit the web site www.nps.gov/webrangers and start your journey.

School Groups

Mississippi

The park offers a wide variety of programs designed for students of all ages. Very young children will enjoy the story and craft activities offered during our "Reading Ranger" programs. Elementary, middle and high school educators have many program options to choose from, including the popular "Animal Wrappers" and "Cast For Your Catch" curriculum-based educational programs. A free guided-tour of Fort Massachusetts is an exciting option for educators and students riding the ferry to West Ship Island. Call (228) 875-9057, ext. 106 or 111.

Florida

Curriculum-based programs are offered October, November, March, April and May for students third through fifth grades. Programs include naturalist barrier island walks at Perdido Key or historic Fort Barrancas tours. Videos, "Discover the Seashore" and "Pensacola in the Civil War," and traveling trunks "Coastal Critters and Seafaring Sailor" are also available. Naval Live Oaks features the movies "The Lorax" and "Creatures of the Deep" for kindergarden through second grades. Reservations are required. Call (850) 916-3001.

Safety

Guarded Lifeguarded Beaches BEACH OPENINGS ARE TENTATIVE Please call (850) 934-2600

Remember

- Do not swim at dawn, dusk or night; these are prime feeding times for sharks.
- Do not swim in hazardous surf conditions.
- Use insect repellent when mosquitoes are most active at dawn and dusk.
- Do not pick plants or harass animals in the seashore. Stay on open beaches and marked trails.
- Forts were not designed for comfort or safety. Please use caution when exploring them.
- Do not leave anything valuable in your car.
- Pets and glass containers are not allowed on the beach.
- During thunderstorms move inside to a building or vehicle. If swimming or fishing get out of the water immediately.

Being Prepared at Gulf Islands

Bringing a few extra items to the Seashore can enhance your visit:

- Swim at a lifeguarded beach.
- Wear sunglasses and a hat.
- Use a sun screen lotion with a SPF rating of 30 or higher.
- Carry a flashlight with you while visiting the historic forts that have dark corridors.
- Bring a plastic bottle of vinegar to soothe the pain from contact with a jellyfish.

What to do in an Emergency

If you have a cell phone call park dispatch at (850) 916-3010 or *55 in Florida and 911 in Mississippi or contact an employee in the field. During business hours go to a park visitor center.
